OTHERWHERE...

“

Our speakers: exploring OTHERWHERE by understanding the challenges of practice in complex OTHERWHERE and African contexts, local ways of 'doing', the links between architecture and landscape, and young practices making a global impact on the profession

SPEAKERS

Susannah Drake

Susannah Drake is the Principal of DLANDSTUDIO in the USA, a multi-disciplinary design firm that reinvents and retrofits urban infrastructure to make it more ecologically productive. In 2013 Drake was honoured with the Emerging Voices Award by the New York Architectural League; Urban Design Fellowship from the Design Trust for Public Space; and the Brunner & Young Architect Award from the AIA.

Francis Kéré

Born in Gando, a small village in Burkina Faso, Francis Kéré studied architecture in Berlin where he then founded his office Kéré Architecture and the non-profit association Schulbausteine für Gando. The main focus of his work is on the use and development of local materials and techniques; the adaptation of new technology in simple ways; and the potential of local communities.

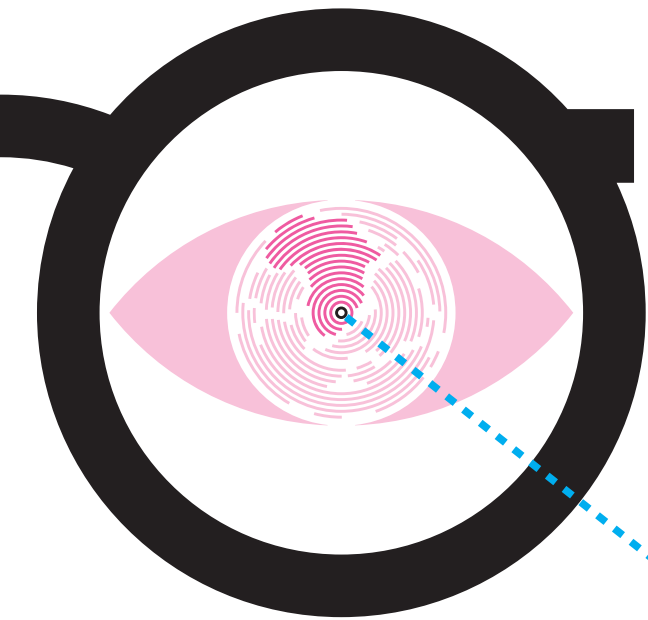

Rahul Mehrotra

Rahul Mehrotra, architect and educator, works in Mumbai and teaches at the Graduate School of Design at Harvard University, where he is Professor of Urban Design and Planning, and Chair of the Department of Urban Planning and Design as well as a member of the steering committee of Harvard's South Asia Initiative.

Sindile Ngonyama

Sindile Ngonyama is the principal director of Ngonyama Okpanum and Associates, which focuses on projects in basic education, higher education, primary healthcare facilities, large scale hospital projects, rural community service centres, large scale transportation and sporting facilities. He is the current President of the South African Institute of Architects.

AT A GLANCE

Joe Osae-Addo

Trained at the Architectural Association in London, Joe Osae-Addo is the CEO of Constructs R+D, an 'innov-native' (TM) research and development company and the Chairman of ArchiAfrika Foundation, a non-profit organisation engaged in the promotion of African design and architecture.

Gerardo Salinas

Gerardo Salinas studied at the Universidad Nacional Autónoma de México, and is currently a partner of Rojkind Arquitectos, a member of the U.S. Green Building Council (USGBC), and a member of the Mexican College of Architects. In 2008, Salinas was named Young Architect of the Year by the American Institute of Architects' Denver Chapter.

Cameron Sinclair

Cameron Sinclair is the co-founder and 'chief eternal optimist' (CEO) for Architecture for Humanity, and co-author of the bestselling book 'Design Like You Give A Damn'. He is a recipient of the TED prize, a Young Global Leader of the World Economic Forum, a Senior Fellow of the Design Futures Council (2011) and an advisor at USAID.

Wang Shu

Wang Shu is the recipient of the 2012 Pritzker Architecture Prize and the Schelling Architecture Prize 2010. He established the Amateur Architecture Studio with his wife, Lu Wenyu, in 1997; and he currently serves as the head of the School of Architecture at the China Academy of Art.
